

English as second language class a success

By Lynne Locke
"We don't teach a subject, we teach children." With that philosophy the Upland Junior High School English as a Second Language (ESL) class works very well, according to Principal Bob Nolan.

Before starting the ESL class, the school "couldn't do anything" for the 13 students who spoke little or no English, he noted.

The program is definitely successful, Nolan said. The students had excellent grades in Mexico and the effect of the ESL class is showing up on their report cards.

Most important of all, the students feel like they belong, he said. Teacher Claudia Koenig agreed: "The class is sort of a social time. They are relaxed because they are with friends and not the odd one in the group."

Miss Koenig credits the friendly atmosphere with helping the students learn. Being in a class with others who have the same problem helps students be more comfortable in trying to speak English, she said. "Half of learning English is getting over the inhibition of using it."

During the rest of the school day students attend regular classes. Miss Koenig said teachers are understanding and students who speak both Spanish and English help the ESL students in the other classes.

A bilingual aide assists the ESL class and translates for the students in other classes also. ESL students who know more English also help the others, and some are very patient and good at explaining, Miss Koenig commented.

She said ESL students find pronunciation the hardest part of learning English because some English sounds aren't used in Spanish. "I can understand their problem because I feel silly saying the Spanish 'rr'."

She doesn't worry about making mistakes when speaking Spanish to her students. "It makes them more comfortable with their own mistakes," she said.

Students also have difficulty using articles such as "a," "an," and "the," and with English word order which is quite different from Spanish.

The class works with lists of words such as names of animals. Students use the words in sentences and paragraphs. In a recent assignment one student described a bear and another told a story about her grandmother and her dog.

Some students start by writing paragraphs in Spanish and then translate them into English. As they become more familiar with English, they write their ideas directly into English, Miss Koenig said.

Students also work in groups making up conversations and playing games. In a concentration game students have to pair English and Spanish words such as "January" with the Spanish "Enero."

They have studied dates, time, colors, numbers and words they need often at home and at school. A recent library assignment to use the card catalog was easier than many because the Spanish and English alphabets are in the same order, Miss Koenig said.

Students gain experience in reading English in other classes, so the ESL class stresses conversation, she said. Students pick up much English from hearing others talk.

Some of them are quite good at English but still a little unsure of using it. Miss Koenig said the more they practice speaking, the more confidence they have.

The class includes both seventh and eighth grade students and has two sets of brothers and sisters. That doesn't cause a problem because "they don't pay any attention to each other," she noted.

The experimental class is in its first regular year. Nolan said, "We'll definitely have it next year. It's really helping the kids."

READING SKILLS — After completing a paragraph using words about animals, Jose Soto relaxes with a magazine in an experimental English as a Second Language class.

Chaffey Adult School

Parent-child program openings announced

The Chaffey Union High School District Adult Education Program has openings in the Parent-Child Relationship class at Foothill Knolls School, Upland. The class is a pre-school situation that parent and child attend together so parents can gain a greater insight into the growth and development of their children.

Direct parental involvement is an essential part of the program because it affects the intelligence and achievement of the child in later life, according to A.W. Schoenborn, evening school principal.

The program is geared directly to the child's abilities and develops language skills and self-esteem. Children learn to interact and have good communication with other people. The program provides a variety of experiences, play situations and field trips which the home cannot always provide, Schoenborn said.

Parents involved in the program learn about child care and development, how to handle everyday problems of their children and how children behave at different stages of development.

Parents can register for the program at Chaffey High School in a mobile trailer unit behind Tower Hall, Fifth Street and Euclid Avenue, Ontario.

For more information, call 983-2010.

Chaffey reports wide community participation

Chaffey College reported today broad community participation in its five recreational programs for the summer of 1974.

Some 370 persons were admitted to three sessions of instructional swimming June 17 - July 26 and 3,594 adults and 1,691 children to recreational swimming, June 16-Aug. 17. A nominal admission fee was charged.

The four other programs — football, baseball, wrestling, track — drew strong participation from the district schools and from Chaffey College itself. These programs were free.

The football program, July 22 - Aug. 22, served about 240 collegians on Mondays and Wednesdays and a weekly average of 340 students from the seven district high schools.

The daily average for the baseball program, July 1 - Aug. 31, came to 30 from the high schools, the junior highs and the college.

Wrestling attracted also a daily average of 30 from the same schools. At least twice weekly the bouts were videotaped and played back to the participants as a learning device.

About 250 persons were involved per week in the track program during the June 24-July 31 period. This program included all-comers cross-country for both sexes and all-comers meets with events for everyone wishing to enter.

New bike law faces problems

A new bicycle licensing program designed to aid recovery of stolen bicycles is facing problems and may be postponed by the state legislature, according to Capt. W.C. Jones, California Highway Patrol area commander.

The new program, set by law to start Jan. 1, 1975, requires each bicycle to be licensed with the police department. All license information will be filed with the Department of Motor Vehicles computer, according to the new law.

Statewide licensing would aid recovery of stolen bicycles.

Jones said stealing bicycles in California is "big business" with some thieves taking orders for specific makes and models. More than $19 million worth of bicycles were stolen in 1973, he noted.

The state assembly is considering repealing the new law because of problems in implementing the program, Jones said. "It is a larger job than expected and the Department of Motor Vehicles doesn't have the machinery to complete the job."

The Upland Police Department is using the new licenses on all bicycles being registered and is keeping local records of licensing information.

Legally, all bicycles must be reregistered, according to Police Chief John A. Wessely. Existing licenses will be honored until the police department declares them void, he said.

The new licenses cost $1 per year and will be good through 1978. Licenses will be issued for three-year periods after 1978.

Laws effective Jan. 1, 1975 require bicycles be equipped with four reflectors as well as reflectorized pedals, Jones said. Each bicycle must have a white reflector visible from the front and red reflector on the back. Yellow reflectors must be visible on both front and rear wheels.

Another new law requires that new bicycles must have serial numbers permanently stamped on the frame. Wessely said bicycles do not have to be brought to the police station for licensing. The owner must tell the license registrar the make, model and serial number of the bicycle as well as number of gears, wheel and frame size and special equipment.

Offers psychotherapy

County initiates program here

A live-in, psychotherapy program for young women is being established in Ontario by the county.

County Supervisors Daniel D. Mikesell of Ontario and Robert O. Townsend of Chino announced that the county Department of Mental Health will contract with Rose Manor on Campus Avenue in Ontario for the program.

Rose Manor will be a halfway house for young women up to the age of 24 who are ready to leave Patton State Hospital but need additional psychotherapy before they return to their parents, foster homes or become self-sufficient.

The facility will offer a group living situation with psychotherapy, school and other planned activities. Rose Manor will accommodate 24 young women who will live in a cottage-like, open setting.

Supervisor Mikesell said the program at Rose Manor will be designed "to create an atmosphere wherein each resident can learn a sense of appreciation and consideration for others, and develop a healthy and positive image of herself within the total community."

A program director and consulting psychologist will plan and supervise therapy geared to the individual needs of residents, who will be assisted by a paraprofessional staff, as well.

A registered nurse will be on hand at all times to care for medical needs.

Official dedication ceremonies for the Rose Manor program are scheduled for 2 p.m. Feb. 14.

Helpers sought by heart fund

An appeal to Ontario, Chino, Upland, Montclair and Cucamonga area residents has been issued by Mrs. Jack Aronoff, chairman of the San Bernardino County Heart Fund, for volunteers to aid in the local drive which begins February 21.

Mrs. Aronoff said volunteers are needed to call on friends and neighbors with information on reducing the risk of heart disease and how to recognize the early warning signs of heart attack and stroke. Volunteers also will collect contributions for increase research, education and community programs to help fight the nation's leading cause of death.

Mrs. Aronoff asked residents to help bring these important messages to the public by volunteering some of their time to help save lives. Persons interested in helping are invited to contact the Heart Fund headquarters, 520 N. Euclid Ave., Suite 2, Ontario, 983-2746.

J. Milo Thomas ends 29 years of service Aug. 8

From carpenter to business manager

J. Milo Thomas and the Chaffey Union High School District both have come a long way in the last 29 years.

In 1946, shortly after serving in World War II, Thomas carried his hammer and carpenter's apron as he reported for his first day of work at Chaffey High School.

At that time, Chaffey High was the only West End public high school and the campus was hard pressed for classroom space.

Early in his Chaffey career, Thomas helped construct a series of temporary annex classrooms on Fourth Street. Today, almost three decades later, those "temporary" structures are still serving students.

And Thomas is still around too, only he has traded in his hammer for an adding machine.

Thomas, Chaffey Union's business manager for the last 11 years, has seen the district budget grow from $5.2 million per year to four times that amount.

"With all of the legal changes, plus the addition of new requirements and federal programs, it is a totally different ball game today," Thomas said of the added complexities of the school budget process.

Two years after joining the district as a carpenter, Thomas assumed an administration post that placed him in the center of school expansion plans.

Trustee Jim Garliepp followed Chaffey by telling Thomas, "The district will sorely miss you. If we have a rapport with the community it is because of your honesty with us and the community."

Upon retirement, Thomas, 60, plans to tour New England with his wife, "Mardy." They will then share their time between their Ontario and Oxnard homes.

Arroyo and Corona elementary

Army band entertains at 2 district schools

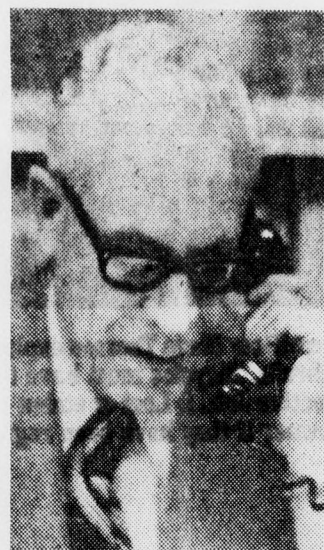

The 72nd Army Band from Fort McArthur in San Pedro visited Arroyo and Corona Schools of the Ontario-Montclair School District last Thursday.

The 20 member band, conducted by Chief Warrant Officer John Russell, visited and played for Arroyo Elementary in the morning — where they were treated to a chicken dinner by Principal Don Uphouse, the Arroyo staff and the Arroyo PTA. They performed at Corona Elementary in the afternoon.

Principal Ray Stella presented "Citizens of the Month" awards to those students whom teachers had designated as the best citizens in their rooms during January. The awards were presented to drum rolls and cymbal clashes from the band. In addition to the concerts before full assemblies, students were treated to personal contact with the bandmen. After the Arroyo concert, band members visited individual classrooms, showing their instruments and talking with students; at Corona, they held a half hour clinic for music teacher Marcie Ruggles' instrumental music students.

District Music Consultant Carl Schafer, the man who arranged the visits, said that programs such as these "are extremely beneficial to students. Seeing and hearing Army men playing so beautifully and enjoying it so much makes kids realize that music is for everybody. This band comes to our district every year, and you would be surprised how many children become interested in music after one of their visits."

Plus $1,000 to promote Chaffey override

Teachers' group gives $1,486 to campaigns

Three local school board candidates—including two presidents of teacher group chapters — have been awarded campaign contributions from the political arm of the California Teachers Association (CTA).

The citizens group working for passage of the March 4 Chaffey Union High School District tax override measure also will receive $1,000, reported Norma Thomas, area representative to the CTA-affiliated Association for Better Citizens (ABC).

The three West End school board candidates and the contributions they will receive are: Raymond Sarrio, president of the Alta Loma School District CTA affiliate and candidate for the Chaffey Union High School District Board of Trustees, received the largest local contribution, $1,000.

—A $243 contribution was granted Elizabeth Cooper, a Baldwin Park High School teacher who is president of her district's CTA chapter. She is a candidate for the Upland school board.

—Louis J. Gentile, a Chaffey College professor running for the Upland School District Board of Trustees, also was given $243.

All the campaign donations were made upon the request of the Chaffey Union and Upland school district's CTA chapters, Mrs. Thomas reported.

The ABC political action fund, which recently came under fire from several sources for its $327,000 in donations to legislative and state executive office candidates, is funded by a $5 yearly voluntary contribution from CTA members.

The Upland and Chaffey Union CTA chapters recently interviewed all candidates for school board seats in those two districts and then asked the ABC for the contributions.

Students receive boost in careers

A variety of vocational training programs that can save students up to a thousand dollars in fees are available through the Career Center at Upland High School.

UHS students may train under either of the two main career programs, the Regional Occupational Program (ROP), and Work Experience Education. Both programs offer credits towards student graduation requirements.

ROP is handled on the Upland High campus by Career Center Specialist Suzanne Jones. One of the main goals of the program is to provide students with entry-level skills in the field of their choice, and discuss career opportunities in that field for future employment.

Most ROP classes are taught off-campus by instructors who have been or are currently employed in their field of instruction. Bus transportation for the students is provided by ROP to and from the class sites.

An ROP Internship program is available to students who have successfully completed the training class. The internship allows a student to receive both wages and graduation credits while working in his or her career field.

All ROP classes are free of charge, and some actually save students from training fees of at least $500 for cosmetology, to between 800 and $1000 for pilot license training.

The fields of aircraft mechanics, vocational office skills, emission control, motorcycle repair, upholstery, hotel motel management and sports. Officiating are new additions to the ROP roster.

Other areas of ROP training include: airline careers, allied health, clinical laboratory technician, nursing assistant training, psychiatric aide, merchandising/retailing sales, modeling, child care, care and guidance of children, fire services, police science, recreation aide, restaurant occupations, auto body repair, autotronics, construction, vocational electronics, graphic reproduction, landscaping, machine technology, commercial plastics, power sewing, sheet metal, welding and occupational awareness.

The other category of career training at UHS, Work Experience, falls under two main headings. Students enrolled in General and Vocational Work Experience are already employed and are getting paid both in wages and credits for the work they produce.

Exploratory Work Experience offers students a chance to observe and participate in career areas of interest. Students in this program are not paid, but still may earn credits toward graduation. A student may also arrange through the Career Center, to observe a possible career area for a half-day or daylong visit.

In addition to Jones, there are three people employed in the Career Center: Work Experience Coordinators Gail Houghton and Nancy Lease, and Work Experience Clerk Jan Smith.

Italian carnival planned March 1

A "Carnevale in Maschera" is the festive Italian carnival planned by the West End Opera Association as a fund-raising event for Saturday, March 1.

The buffet dinner and dance will be held in Mackey Hall of Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church in Montclair.

The theme for the gala party has been taken from the masqued New Year's Eve ball in "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss. This opera will be the spring production of the West End Opera Association on April 19 in Gardiner Spring Auditorium, Chaffey High School campus, Ontario.

As guests arrive at the "Carnevale in Maschera," each will be given a brightly decorated eye mask.

The tables will be covered with red, white and green cloths and centered with fresh fruit and leaves. Multi-colored balloons and confetti will decorate the hall to create a carnival scene.

The evening will open at 6:30 with a no-host cocktail hour with hors d'oeuvres prepared by the members of the chorus. A gourmet Italian buffet will be served and wine will be provided.

Mrs. Cesare Vai is general chairman and has appointed the following committee members: Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, dinner; Grace M. Richards and Mrs. Jack Katzman, invitations and reservations; Anthony Nigliazzo, bar; Rosalie Jacobson, prize tickets; Betty Gaglio, masks; Mrs. Dyer Huston, decor; Anthony Colonna, prizes; and Mrs. Robert H. Oyler, press.

Assisting will be Mrs. James L. Vai, Mrs. George Godlin, Mrs. William Waggener, Mrs. John Fritcher, Harold Bailin, Vito de Vito Francesco and Lancer Renner.

Reservations may be made by calling 987-1586.

Spring semester classes increase

An expanded number of courses is being offered at Los Amigos Jr. High in Cucamonga during the spring semester. Twenty class periods of 13 different elective courses complement the required courses.

The seventh and eighth grade students are able to choose courses that include activities such as typing, needlework and sewing, and rebuilding carburetors. Frank Smiderle has gathered enough tools and power equipment to offer carpentry to both boys and girls. One class will be centered around planning trips to Europe and South Africa. Advanced and beginning band is also offered.

For the advanced students a special literature course and an advanced math class will be given. A discussion group will be organized with the MGM (Mentally Gifted Minors). Mrs. Michelle Foster states that the MGM students will be challenged to do individual projects and that the students will only be limited by their own initiative.

Principal Thomas Beecroft said, "We have high expectations for our students. This semester should prove exciting for both students and teachers."

Los Amigos School offers as part of the regular courses a bilingual program where the subjects are taught in both English and Spanish. This program is part of the nationwide federally funded Title VII Bilingual Education Program.

Visitors are welcome at the school any time.

The lecture, sponsored by the Blaisdell Institute, will consider "The Circularity of Time: A Challenge to Western Religions." Dr. Hans Dieter Betz will present his book "Plutarch's Theological Writings and Early Christian Literature" at 11:55 a.m. Feb. 20 at the Seeley G. Mudd Auditorium, School of Theology, College and Foothill.

Christian Chapel

Christian Chapel of Walnut Valley will present an afternoon with Jesus in Worship, in Praise, in Adoration, Sunday beginning at 3 p.m. Special music will be given on brass instruments by The Emissaries by Rachel Bubblitz, and by the people led by Frank Houston.

Lenten seminars

Pastor Melvin De Vries of the Valley Community Drive-In Church, Lone Hill Avenue and Covina Boulevard, San Dimas, will conduct a weekly Lenten Seminar series with the purpose of helping participants give up feelings of inadequacy, self-defeat, etc., not only for Lent but forever. Seminars began Ash Wednesday and will continue each Wednesday through March 26, from 10 to 11 a.m. at the church. The series will include Bible study, class participation, brain stimulators and personal growth exercises.

Christ Lutheran

The second sacrificial supper will be held 6:30 p.m. Feb. 19, at Christ Lutheran Church, 5500 Francis Ave., Chino. It will provide a mild form of fasting as a reminder of those in need as well as reminding everyone to be grateful for the Lord's blessings and His sacrifice for us. The services will follow at 7:30 p.m. when an "Upper Room" setting is used. Guests to the supper and service are welcome.

World Day of Prayer

The theme for the annual World Day of Prayer is "Bridge Over Troubled Waters." The Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML) Zone 16 will hold its annual World Day of Prayer 9:30 a.m. Feb. 21 at Immanuel Lutheran Church, 5648 Jefferson Ave., Chino. There will be nine churches participating. The Rev. Martin Keck of Immanuel Lutheran Church will preside. The public is invited.

Coffee and donuts will be available.

Montclair Bethany Baptist

'The Gospel Road' to air Sunday

The story is old, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film "The Gospel Road" to be shown Sunday at Bethany Baptist Church in Montclair. The showing will begin at 6 p.m. "The Gospel Road," distributed by World Wide Pictures, was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash, whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way. The film is a unique blend of scripture-based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs, and a series of in-depth character portrayals, with Israel itself as the mixing bowl.

Advertising study shows:

Newspapers 'most vital medium' for retailers

From Newsprint Facts
Defining clearly how shopping patterns have changed in recent years, just-disclosed results of a major research project open up new vistas for retailers.

The study is entitled, "Shoppers on the Move." It was financed by the 13 Canadian newsprint producers making up the Newsprint Information Committee. The Newspaper Advertising Bureau designed and coordinated the year-long effort.

The Bureau's executive vice president, Leo Bogart, says the data provide new proofs that newspapers are increasingly the retailers' most vital medium. In fact, the charted changes in shopping patterns mesh so well with newspaper characteristics that the study points the way to greater profits through more intensive newspaper use, he says.

Some 17,700 questionnaires and interviews with shoppers in five typical markets across the country were conducted and tabulated by Response Analysis Corp. of Princeton, N.Y.

The data show that:
—Vastly more than ever before, consumers are on wheels. The car is used by women on nine out of 10 shopping trips. For men, the proportion is higher. The car is used even on half of downtown shopping visits.

—The best customers shop most often and travel farther to do it, so it is worth the merchant's while to try to attract them over considerable distances.

—Shoppers move in a wide orbit. For so-called big-ticket items (furniture, large appliances, etc.) they travel more than five miles in 61 per cent of shopping trips and for general merchandise in 50 per cent of shopping trips. Generally speaking, the farther the trip, the more money spent.

—Shoppers can be motivated to abandon the path of least resistance. Explaining why they went where they did on their last general merchandise shopping trip, only 20 per cent of those giving a reason say that the shopping area was closest and 15 per cent describe it as most convenient.

In contrast, 29 per cent say they were attracted to specific stores and merchandise. (Store image and reputation, of course, is built by advertising.) Fifteen per cent refer specifically to ads as having brought them.

—Retail advertising is welcomed and liked. Eight out of 10 women and six out of 10 men follow advertising in the newspaper to see if there are sales they might be interested in. Three-fourths of shopping visits were made by women who read "yesterday's" newspaper. This level of coverage is unmatched by other media.

—Bringing in traffic is the first step not only to making a sale but also to selling something extra. Of all items "definitely shopped for" on general merchandise shopping trips, about half were actually bought.

But in the course of this, other general merchandise items were "looked at" and in general three out of five were bought. For every 100 items shopped for and bought, there were 30 other, unanticipated purchases.

The research confirmed that the market for any merchant dise item on a particular day is extremely thin. Huge retail sales volumes are actually created by small numbers of customers in the market on any given day.

Resolve to care for your heart

For residents of San Bernardino County who have not made their New Year's resolutions yet, the San Bernardino County Heart Association has a suggestion: Resolve to reduce your risk of heart disease by taking better care of your heart.

Dr. Paul Ennis, president of the County Heart Association, says the best way to begin is by getting a complete medical checkup. "Your doctor can tell whether you're a candidate for heart attack or stroke. And he can prescribe the preventive measures you and your family should take to reduce your risk."

An estimated 28 million Americans have some form of heart and blood vessel diseases, the leading cause of death and disability in this country. They result in more than one million deaths every year.

"Many heart attack deaths could have been prevented," Dr. Ennis said, "if the victims or their families had known and recognized the early warning signs of heart attack."

Dr. Ennis listed the early warning signs of heart attack:
— Prolonged, oppressive pain or unusual discomfort in the center of the chest.
— Pain may radiate to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw.
— Pain or discomfort is often accompanied by sweating.
— Nausea, vomiting and shortness of breath also may occur.

— Sometimes these symptoms subside and then return. "Blood pressure is another important area that county residents should resolve to watch," Dr. Ennis said. "Some 23 million Americans have high blood pressure and half don't know it. The disease usually has no special symptoms."

Claremont United Methodist

New church schedule

The Claremont United Methodist Church announces a new Sunday morning worship and church school schedule to begin Sunday and extend through March 30. The theme of the new pattern is "Worship and Learning for the whole Parish."

"It's purpose" according to Karen Van Hook, associate minister, "is to initiate our children into regular church worship, to encourage families to worship together and continue their learning and to provide for the children a unique worship opportunity of their own."

The schedule calls for adults and children attending the 9:15 a.m. church service together with the younger children leaving the service before the sermon for their own activities. At the close of the church service at 10:10 a.m., adults will go to their various classes. Care for nursery age children is available for the entire period

9:15 - 11 a.m. The 11:05 a.m. service with child care will continue.

Participating at both services of worship Feb. 16 will be the Rev. James Dallas, senior minister; the Rev. Karen Van Hook, associate minister; G. Merrill Lenox, minister of administration; and Mary Ellen Kilsby, director of youth ministries.

LV First Brethren

Evangelists to lead crusade

Rev. and Mrs. John Becker, representing the Brethren Board of Evangelism, headquarters Hagerstown, Maryland, will be leading an evangelistic crusade at the First Brethren Church of La Verne, 2600 White Ave., Feb. 16-21.

Following the completion of his theological training, Rev. Becker served in both the pastorate and the field of evangelism.

Mrs. Becker joins her husband as a pianist and accordionist and the couple vocalize together. In addition, Rev. Becker is a saxophone soloist and Mrs. Becker uses a puppet and ventriloquy for the children attending the services.

The Beckers are involved full-time in an evangelistic ministry and bring a fresh touch of eagerness and enthusiasm to a ministry that is both Biblical and evangelical.

Rev. Gregory Pfau, pastor of First Brethren, invites the public to attend the crusade with Rev. and Mrs. Becker. Services begin at 7 p.m.

FIRST BRETHREN — Rev. and Mrs. John Becker, representing the Brethren Board of Evangelism, will lead an evangelistic crusade at the First Brethren Church of La Verne, 2600 White Ave., Feb. 16-21.

Local man promoted at theology school

Announcement of Dr. Dickinson's promotion was made by STC President Gordon E. Michelson following action taken by the School's board of trustees at their January meeting.

Dr. Dickinson, who holds a Doctor of Religion degree from STC, has served in an administrative capacity with the school since 1964. For nine years before that he was pastor of various churches in Mississippi and Georgia.

He received his B.D. from Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., and B.A. from the University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg.

Dr. Dickinson has held the post of assistant to the president for church relations and alumni affairs since 1966 and has been director of continuing education since 1972.

HEALTH NEWS

Your Aching Back Means That You Are Important

By DR. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

Each day an average of 6½ million Americans — most of them successful men — are laid up with a new status symbol, the backache, which has replaced the ulcer as the badge of high-pressure living.

You have to realize that in many ways your back attacks are the result of stressful living.

And so one way to stave off that next attack is to reduce the nervous stress in your life.

Stop doing things you don't really like to do, like taking on jobs and assignments you really don't enjoy.

If someone irritates you, tell him or her so, and that includes your mate.

It helps to blow your top once in a while.

Most backache sufferers are men 45 to 64 years old and women under 45.

Once you have had a stress backache you can count on it to re-occur again and again, just as surely as the sun will rise each day.

If left untreated its reoccurrence will become that predictable.

Of course, chiropractic has proven itself as the premium response to the backache problem.

The warning signs of stress backache are reasonably simple to note. Frequently, yawning in a fatigued state will cause a person to "wince" or double over to avoid what they feel will be a rib popping out of place or a muscle spasm.

Sometimes the tightness in the back or the hips or legs will grow with stress or pressure, and serve as something of a distress signal, warning of a backache to come.

You cannot avoid stressful responsibilities of this modern day life we live. But you can seek significant care of backache problems and to condition the body to their prevention.

It's in this sense that chiropractic has been a God-send to contemporary American life.

(Note: Dr. Helzer maintains chiropractic offices at 108 East H Street, Ontario, telephone: 963-1711).

Archaeologist to speak at college

An archeologist who took part in the excavating of two ancient synagogues will describe his findings in a public lecture in Claremont Feb. 13.

Alf Thomas Kraabel, chairman of the religious studies committee at the University of Minnesota, will be the speaker. The lecture will be at 8 p.m. in Edwards Auditorium, Harvey Mudd College. The Institute for Antiquity and Christianity of Claremont Graduate School is the sponsor. Admission is free. Kraabel will tell what scholars have deduced about the nature of ancient Judaism from the archeological evidence at the sites of the two synagogues, both built during the later Roman Empire. One is a mammoth structure in Sardis that belonged to the powerful Jewish community of a metropolis. The other is a simple but unusual synagogue of Khirbet Shema that was erected in the remote hills of Galilee by the descendants of refugees of the first- and second-century revolts against Rome.

Kraabel is the only person to be on the excavation and publication staffs of both projects. He is a member of several scholarly organizations, including the Archeological Institute of America and the Society of Biblical Literature.

"The primary thrust of the Respiratory Insufficiency Management System is to gain functional improvement for the patient and combine this with an outreach program to help the patient maintain his improvement. This involves a respiratory therapist going into There's never been a better time to shop Thrifty.

We cut our costs to help cut yours.

At Thrifty, we try to save money where we can so you can save, too. Here's how it works:

WE KEEP OUR STAFF LEAN. If we had more clerks we'd have to pass the expense on to you. So if you don't mind serving yourself to merchandise, you can help yourself to a lot more savings.

NO DRESSING ROOMS. They're okay for big fancy stores with fancy clothes and fancy price tags. But not for us. They take up valuable floor space that could be better filled with the things you need — at the low prices you want.

THE MOST POPULAR ITEMS AT POPULAR PRICES. Usually when stores say this they mean the prices are popular with management. Not so at Thrifty. We stock the items people want most — 25,000 of them. And we buy them in big quantities.

But like any wise company, we don't believe in cutting corners on essentials.

We think you should be able to do much of your shopping in one place — so we have 60 departments carrying everything from auto supplies to cosmetics.

We think you should be able to get what you want when you want it, so we're open long hours, 365 days a year.

And with the price of gasoline, you shouldn't have to drive all over town to shop with us. So we have a store near you.

In today's economy, we think this makes a lot of sense.

Here it is! A New England boiled dinner. Just what you need for a change of pace and taste. You couldn't find anything more filling and satisfactory for a family dinner cooked in that cooking pot.

New pancake idea

A box of pancake mix, a little of this, a little of that and some imagination add-up to a great build-your-own wintertime supper. It's each to his own individual taste with stick 'em yourself pancake main dishes created in the test kitchens of Rochester, N.Y.

Tropical Pancake Stacks are a new way to use left over ham. Diced ham is combined with pineapple chunks in a delectable sweet and sour sauce that's easily made with preserves and prepared yellow mustard. The crunchy goodness of crumbled bacon, flaked coconut, or peanuts is added to the pancakes as they cook. At the table, everyone builds their own stack alternating pancakes and ham mixture and sprinkling all with additional bacon crumbs, coconut, or peanuts.

The principle's the same but the flavor altogether different

Barbecue Pancake Stacks. In this recipe the pancakes are perked up with chopped ripe olives, green pepper, or salami. A luscious mixture of ground beef and sloppy joe seasoning mix is the perfect go-between for the Barbecue Stacks.

Tropical Pancake Stacks
1/4 cup prepared yellow mustard
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 can (1-lb., 4-oz.) sliced pineapple
1/2 cup apricot or pineapple preserves
2 cups diced cooked ham
Pancake batter (recipe below)
Flaked coconut, crumbled cooked bacon, chopped peanuts

In fondue pot or skillet, stir together mustard and cornstarch until smooth. Drain juice or syrup from pineapple; add water to make 1 cup. Add to mustard mixture along with preserves. Cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until sauce comes to a boil and thickens. Cut pineapple into 1/2-inch sections. Add ham and pineapple to sauce; cook 5 minutes longer, or until hot. Prepare pancake batter; spoon onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Sprinkle uncooked side of each pancake with a little coconut, bacon, or peanuts; turn and bake second side. Serve pancakes topped with ham mixture; sprinkle with additional coconut, bacon, or peanuts. 6 to 8 servings.

Barbecue Pancake Stacks
1 pound ground beef
1 envelope (1 1/2-oz.) seasoning mix for sloppy joes
1 can (1-lb.) tomatoes
1/4 cup Burgundy or claret, if desired

Pancake batter (recipe below)
Chopped ripe olives, green pepper, or salami
Shredded Cheddar cheese

Cook beef in fondue pot or skillet until brown, stirring to crumble; pour off excess fat. Stir in contents of seasoning mix envelope, tomatoes, and wine. Simmer 5 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Prepare pancake batter; spoon onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Sprinkle uncooked side of each pancake with a few pieces of olive, pepper, or salami; turn and bake second side. Serve pancakes topped with beef mixture; sprinkle with cheese and additional olives, pepper, or salami. 6 to 8 servings.

Pancake Batter: Prepare recipe for about 20 to 24 pancakes following directions on pancake mix package.

1950s rock and roll fest at Magic Mountain

VALENCIA. — The sound of rock 'n' roll will fill the air at Magic Mountain Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Feb. 15, 16 and 17, as the Valencia entertainment/amusement park presents its 3rd Annual 1950s Festival of Rock and Roll!

Among the "golden oldies" artists set for the Washington's Birthday weekend festivities are: The Olympics, The Penguins, Bobby Freeman, The Coasters, Don Julian and the Larks, Big Joe Turner, Rosie and the Originals, Ron Holden and The Rivingtons. Between them, this roster of rock royalty has sold over 21 million records!

Rock and roll concert times all three days are 2 and 4 p.m. at the Showcase Theatre and 12:30 and 3 p.m. at the Contempo Pavilion. In addition, the popular Tall Tree-O will perform Fifties' oldies at the Carousel Bandstand.

Dance contests will be staged daily with a 19" Magnavox color television set as grand prize.

Magic Mountain will be open all three days from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The park's famous one-price ticket includes entry to all rock concerts, plus unlimited use of over 50 thrill-packed rides and attractions, the west's wildest collection of "white-knuckler" thrillers.

The park will also be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 12, Lincoln's Birthday.

Magic Mountain is located only two gallons north of Hollywood, just off Interstate 5.

'Wonderful Town'

Nanette Fabray in starring role

Nanette Fabray will return to the musical stage in a new production of "Wonderful Town" to be presented by the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera as the third attraction of its forthcoming season. The musical, which completes CLO's 1975 slate, will open at the Pavilion of the Music Center on July 1 and play for seven weeks.

"Wonderful Town" will mark Miss Fabray's first major musical theatre appearance since 1962 when she co-starred on Broadway with Robert Ryan in Irving Berlin's "Mr. President." Returning to California and her family, she decided to forego further long-term commitments and instead devoted her time to television which first discovered her in 1955 when she was cited with three Emmys for her comedic antics with Sid Caesar on "Caesar's Hour." She repeated her award-winning performance in Broadway's "High Button Shoes" when that musical was adapted for television, starred in her own series "The Nanette Fabray

Show," and has been one of the medium's most popular guest stars ever since, with occasional forays into summer stock and a brief appearance last year as star of "Applause" at the Long Beach Civic Light Opera where she once again won the hosannahs of critics.

Based on the highly popular play, "My Sister Eileen," "Wonderful Town" has music by Leonard Bernstein, lyrics by Betty Comden and Adolph Green, and book by Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov who first adapted Ruth McKenney's stories for the stage. The musical tallied an impressive 559 performances on Broadway (1953), swept the awards field by winning the N.Y. Drama Critics, the Tony and the Donaldson citations, and later became a successful television special with Rosalind Russell repeating her original role. Because of the unavailability of a suitable star, the musical toured only briefly following its New York engagement and has never before been presented by Civic Light Opera.

Fred Waring concert set

PASADENA. — The general theme of the all new Fred Waring Show coming to the Pasadena Civic Auditorium, Friday evening, Feb. 21 is "Songs from Great Broadway Shows."

"It should be fun," says Fred Waring. "These songs were written to be enjoyed. They must be sung. This year I have selected a galaxy of young soloists, especially with these songs in mind."

Composers to be represented will include Rogers and Hammerstein, George and Ira Gershwin, Cole Porter, George M. Cohan, Merrill and Styne, Dietz and Schwartz, Kern and Harbach, Irving Berlin, Lerner and Lowe, Kander and Ebb, Comden and Green, Young and Herbert and many, many more.

Some of the Broadway Shows represented on the program, will include "Girl Crazy,"

"Cabaret," "Showboat," "Sound of Music," "Hit The Deck," "Porgy and Bess," "Pajama Game," "Charlie Brown," "Anything Goes," "Man of La Mancha," "Fiddler on the Roof," "Music in the Air," "West Side Story," "Roberta" and loads of others.

The program, to be announced from the stage, by Fred Waring, will also include "Songs of Americana," like "America, I Hear You Singing," "America, The Beautiful," "I've Got You Under My Skin," and "They Can't Take That Away From Me."

As is Fred Waring's custom, the band, chorus and soloists will open the program with their theme song "Sleep," made so popular in their radio and television shows over the years.

Travel film on Europe scheduled

"All the Best of Europe - From Spain to Norway" will be the travel film presented Friday in 2 and 8 p.m. showings at the Garrison Theater, Claremont, by the Claremont Travel Film Series.

Curtis Nagel, a long-time favorite of the travel series audiences, will narrate the film.

The film will start off in Madrid and continue to the historic city of Seville to see the Holy Week Procession. Then it will be on to Paris, the city of light and eternal glamour.

The film will go onto Switzerland to see the quaint old city of Berne and from there to Interlaken and the lake country. Austria's beautiful city of Salzburg will be shown along with scenes of life in Vienna with special songs by the Vienna Boys Choir.

Italy and the city of Rome will be visited, then into Germany to the picturesque Nurnberg and a look at the harbor city of Hamburg.

The tour will go into the enchanting Copenhagen and out into the countryside of a Denmark of centuries past.

In Norway, the tour will go to the old seaport of Bergen, then on a drive in early spring to the highlands and the eternally snow-covered high plateau of Vida.

The trip will finish with a dancing group cavorting about a huge campfire by the light of the midnight sun.

The series is sponsored by the Mt. Baldy Council, Pomona College Women's Campus Club, with proceeds supporting the Development Fund of Pomona College.

Courtesy coffee will be served at the evening performance during intermission. Tickets may be bought for the series or at the door for individual performances.

Mrs. Milo Tigner is chairman of the series and is assisted by: Mrs. Wesley Leighton, ticket sales; Mrs. Roy Miller, treasurer; and Esther Ballew and the Mmes. Charles Gill, Earle Jones, Jackson Niebrugge and Stuart Wheeler.

ANAHEIM. — A variety of top-name talent will be offered at Disneyland next Friday through Sunday (Feb. 14-16) when the Park presents two traditionally popular events, its valentine party and star-spangled holidays celebration.

Festivities will begin at 8 p.m. Friday when Kool and the Gang, Blue Magic, Jim Stafford and "Soul'd Out" head the entertainment lineup for the park's valentine party.

This special ticket event, which lasts until 1 a.m., will also feature unlimited use of all Disneyland's many adventures and attractions (except shooting galleries).

Kool and the Gang will perform on Tomorrowland Stage at 8:30, 10 and 11:30 p.m. Sharing the spotlight with the group will be recording artists Blue Magic.

Jim Stafford will appear on Tomorrowland Terrace at 9:30 and 11 p.m., while "Soul'd Out" takes the Plaza Gardens stage from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. for listening and dancing pleasure.

On Saturday and Sunday, Disneyland will extend operating hours for its special star-spangled holidays.

Nighttime entertainment for the two days will be highlighted by performances of trumpeter Doc Severinsen and His Now Generation Brass featuring Today's Children.

On Tomorrowland Stage, Severinsen will offer two shows each night at 8 and 10 p.m.

Across the way, at

Tomorrowland Terrace, rock music presented by "Creative Source" will be available at 9 and 11 p.m., while Freddy Martin and His Orchestra's big band sound can be heard at Main Street's Plaza Gardens from 8 p.m. to midnight.

The Park will return to its winter schedule by closing on Tuesday (Feb. 18) and operating from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday (Feb. 19-20).

'La Boheme' in Riverside

Good news for opera lovers everywhere — Mimi is coming to Riverside!

The famous seamstress and her romantic poet, Rodolfo, will appear at 8 p.m. Feb. 8 in the opera, "La Boheme."

Presented by the Riverside Opera Association, the romantic work will be sung in English by the City of Angels Opera, a division of the Music Center Opera Association. Curtis L. Stearns will conduct the four act work of Puccini.
